

LIFELONG LEARNING ASSESSMENT TOPIC LIST

LLA Topics Defined:	A real-life event experienced firsthand generates personal and professional learning equivalent to college-level academic rigor and quality. Events create a significant life change for the learner, such as an increased capacity to live and apply learning in new contexts. Job-based learning experiences or volunteerism are most valued. They should involve engagement in activities for several years or more, are non-episodic (not one-time events) and are context-embedded within naturally occurring life events throughout adult years.
	Topics and subtopics must be approved before a student may enroll in ENG-135	UPDATED MARCH 15, 2018
Students must provide documentation that supports their claim for college credit at the time they submit their LLA papers. Documents will be added as appendices to papers. LLA papers submitted without documentation will not be considered for credit.
